ATR VERDICT: ADDOSH proved she acts on soft ground and at this track when beaten less than a length over 7f here latest, and has been given another chance off 67. That was her first start in nursery company and she's improving for each visit to the track. Add to that William Buick keeps the ride and she ticks plenty of boxes. Tilaawah is the main danger following back-to-back second-placed efforts on the all-weather, while Inver Park is another to take seriously.

ATR VERDICT: Paul Nicholls has his string in fine form and OSCARS MOONSHINE can confirm the promise of his latest Hereford success. The five-year-old appreciated the step up in distance on that occasion and might still be well ahead of the handicapper now stretching out further in trip. Talktomenow has clearly improved for undergoing wind surgery as he dotted up at Perth, while Escort'namix should also make the frame.

ATR VERDICT: The veteran COUNT OF CARABASS tends to up his game from September onwards and can strike here. Last month he finished a close fourth at Limerick and then he was caught close home when beaten a neck on heavy ground at the same track earlier this month. Five of his six career victories have come in autumn months. Sagittarius Rising has finished third in his last couple of handicaps. Colin Keane has been booked and his mount has a victory on testing ground from Gowran Park in his locker. He has to rate a threat. Ben Kennedy rode his first winner on Swiss Army Officer at Cork last week and the pair are reunited again. They have prospects of following up off 5lb higher. The form of Born Invincible's Limerick success is working out well. He wasn't at his best when next seen in the Curragh but could bounce back.

ATR VERDICT: SIZING AT MIDNIGHT made all to secure back-to-back victories in comfortable fashion at Ffos Las earlier this month and a 9lb rise might not be enough to stop him continuing on his upward curve. Commodore Barry will make sure the selection doesn't get things completely his own way from the front, but disappointed at Bangor on his reappearance and is vulnerable from a win perspective. Warwick winner Kitty's Light has been in top form this summer and will appreciate conditions, while Flying Verse was travelling nicely when unseating three from home at Wincanton and can't be discounted.

ATR VERDICT: KEEP IT BRIEF got off the mark with real ease when stepped up to 1m3f at Kempton last time, being eased down towards the finish when the race was in the bag, and the Muhaarar colt could have lots more to offer following a 7lb rise. Fox Shinji lost little in defeat when having to settle for a silver medal at Nottingham earlier this month, he was searching for back-to-back victories on that occasion and Ryan Moore catches the eye in the saddle here. William Buick is another notable jockey booking, doing the steering aboard Ian Williams' Bath winner Tanqeeb.

ATR VERDICT: YAZAMAN has had a ticket for all the big summer festivals and William Haggas' youngster has rarely let himself down, chasing home some top-class rivals in those outings. This offers him the chance to land the confidence-boosting victory his efforts this season deserve and the application of first-time cheekpieces can help. Significantly has been a model of consistency despite being yet to taste victory, while Blackberry's sole failure came when tried in Listed company and there is plenty of substance to her victories. Desert Gulf got the better of the useful Lauded at Wolverhampton on debut and is another to consider in a competitive heat.

ATR VERDICT: PEAKED TOO SOON made a respectable debut when finishing third at Huntingdon last month and Jamie Osborne's gelding, who did some fine late work on that occasion, could be the answer to this. He can confirm the form over Left Unattended, who faded into sixth in that contest but wasn't helped by meeting interference two furlongs from home. Silent Partner and The Worthy Brat are both related to winners on the Flat and could be the pick of the newcomers, while Harry Cobden is a notable jockey booking aboard Sweet Nightingale.

ATR VERDICT: Shumaker is two from two around here and arrives off the back of a victory in a beginners' chase at Punchestown. He has handled attritional ground before but isn't enamoured with it. THEFAITHFULINDIAN was a ready winner by four and a half lengths at the Curragh last Thursday and makes plenty of appeal running off the mandatory 6lb penalty. That was the first time Colin Keane had been on board and he retains the ride. Poster Child showed her toughness when holding on to score in Naas on Sunday. This would be a step up in trip for her if she reappears. Make Good has each-way claims. He will go on the ground and gets first-time cheekpieces.
